DoJ,

You guys should change your name. As you are currently being misrepresented by calling yourselves anything to do with Justice.

I'm glad the Organization I work for is costing a shift away from Microsoft product.

Then again your entire nation is pretty pathetic. About to be wiped out by an enemy who lives in a cave a rides donkeys. And you need my small countries support as you are too incompetent or scared to do it yourselves. LOL.

Even I'm beginning to tire of having to support a nation with no real idea what is going on. But I guess we won't be seeing much of you once your stock market collapses. As a nation that can not even properly generate enough electricity you are starting to sound like another backward and corrupt administration I've been hearing about.

Anyway I'm prepared to reverse my opinion if I can have some of your payola from Microsoft. Please send in cash.

Keep up the sham. And remember when trying to relax, don't take a deep breath anymore.
